What employers can do

- Green the fleet
3 million company cars in the UK. They account for 11 per cent of passenger cars but 25 per cent of passenger car CO2 emissions.
- Set up a business travel plan
To help reduce car use and the need to travel for work
- Provide and promote a car share matching scheme and priority parking for car sharers

Green fleet advice

If you operate a fleet of 50 or more vehicles Energy Saving Trust offer free fleet reviews. (including leased cars and privately owned vehicles used for business travel)

They are carried out by specialists with a wide spectrum of experience working with a range of fleets.

If you run a fleet of up to 50 vehicles. Our fleet telephone consultants offer support and advice which can help improve your business.

Travel planning tips

Post up to date local bus and train timetables on the notice board or even the internet link

Be flexible about start finish times.

Identify staff who would be suitable for working from home, even if it just once a fortnight.

Promote the health benefits of cycling and walking.

Don't provide fuel for private use on company cars.

Encourage meeting venues that are accessible via public transport.

Log the number of miles and hours saved by use of video conferencing. Use data to encourage staff.

Smart driving

It's easy, simple changes to the way you drive could reduce the fuel you burn and save money.

It can save you on average 15 per cent of your fuel costs

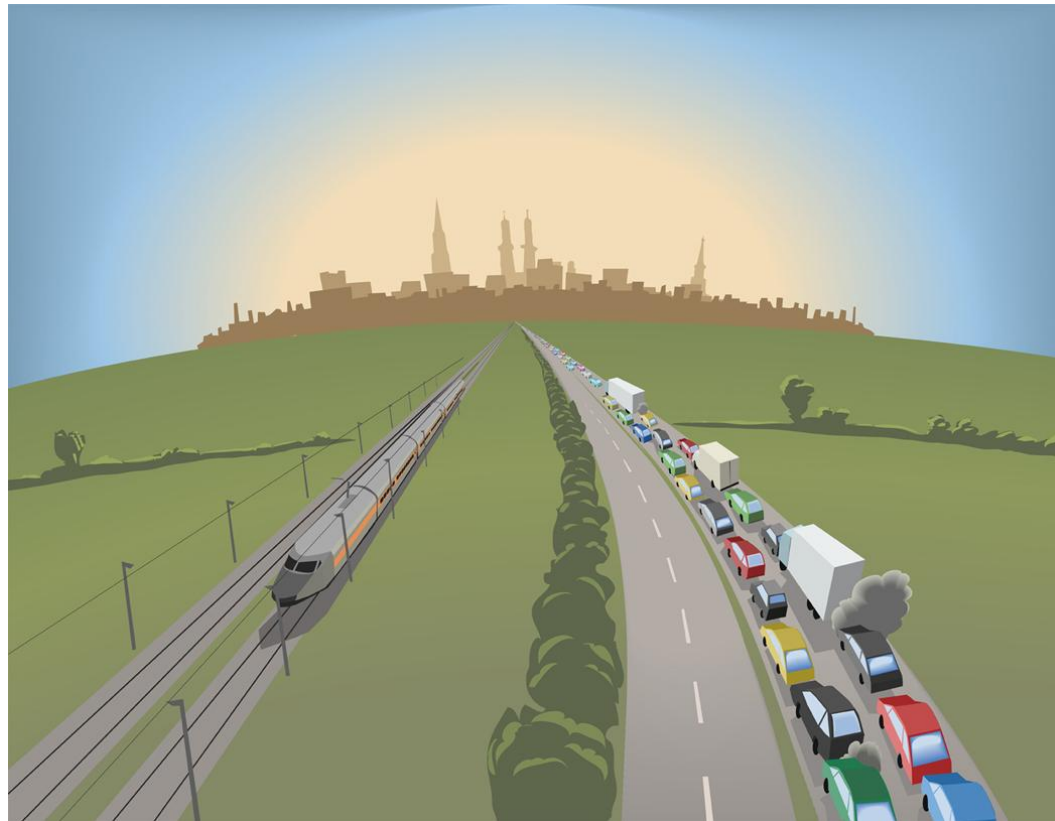

Helps you to drive safely and reduce wear and tear on components like tyres, clutch and gearbox.

Choose a low CO₂ car

How can we use the car less?
